

Call for abstracts
&
Announcement BNS research prize 2021

Dear BNS member,

The BNS Executive Committee would like to announce a call for abstracts, to be presented at the BNS symposium on Neurophysiology (27 NOV 2021).

Selected scientific work in the field of neurosciences can be presented as an oral communication or a poster presentation.

In order to be selected for an oral communication, applications must meet the requirements of the BNS research prize 2021:

- Junior BNS members (≤ 35 years old on September 15, 2021) can apply with a full length paper that has been accepted in 2020 or 2021 for publication in an international journal. Submitted papers will be scored based on methodology and originality. Review papers are not allowed, but systematic reviews will be considered.
- Only application of BNS members will be considered. Non-members can apply for membership of the society by sending a CV to the BNS administration and by paying the membership fee, before sending in the application for the BNS research prize.
- The applicant should be first or senior author.
- Winners of the BNS research prizes 2020 cannot apply in 2021. These eligibility criteria will be applied strictly.
- The final accepted version of this work or a proof of acceptance in case the work is still in press should be submitted to the BNS ExCo by email to the BNS administration (bns@neuro.be), together with a motivation letter and a CV. The deadline for submission is September 15, 2021 (midnight).
- A maximum of four prizes of 500€ each will be awarded.

This information can also be found on our website neuro.be.

Best regards,

The BNS Executive Committee